

Mobility Management in Alameda County

Naomi Armenta

Alameda CTC Paratransit
Coordinator

Richard Weiner

Nelson\Nygaard Consulting
Associates

October 7, 2013

History of Mobility Management in Alameda County

- Focus on consumers
 - All-consumer Paratransit Coordinating Council
- Good work in TAC on coordination
 - ADA Programs (East Bay Paratransit, LAVTA/Wheels, Union City Transit)
 - City-based Paratransit Programs
 - Community Based Transportation Providers
- Training in both committees since 2010
- Multiple relevant Workshop topics
- Policies – Implementation Guidelines, Gap grants

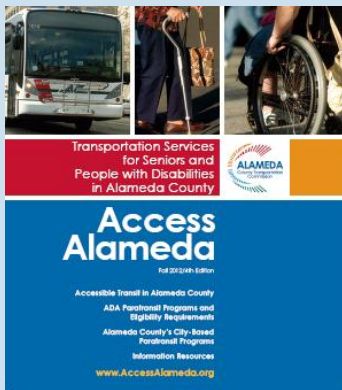

Unique Resources

| Program/Project Title | Sponsor |
|---|--|
| Mobility Matters Project | Center for Independent Living, Inc. |
| Tri-City Mobility Management/Travel Training | City of Fremont/Human Services Dept. |
| Volunteer Assisted Senior Transportation | Senior Support Program of The Tri Valley |
| Rides for Seniors | Senior Helpline Services |
| Tri-City Volunteer Driver Programs | City of Fremont/Human Services Dept. |
| Accessible Group Trip Transportation for Youth and Adults with Disabilities | Bay Area Outreach & Recreation Program |
| Downtown Route Shuttle (DTR) | City of Pleasanton |
| 8-To-Go: Demand Response, Door to Door Shuttle | City of Emeryville |
| Transportation for Individuals with Dementia | Alzheimer's Services of the East Bay |
| Tri-City Taxi Voucher Program | City of Fremont/Human Services Dept. |
| Central County Taxi Program | City of Hayward |
| Taxi-Up & Go Project | City of Oakland/Dept. of Human Services |

First step - Build on programs already in place

- Alameda County Travel Training Group
- Transition “Access Alameda” branding towards One Call/One Click

- Website
- Hotline
- Booklet

AC Transit Mobility Resources Inventory

- Closely related, bolsters Mobility Management efforts
- Comprehensive survey – 101 invitations, 42% response rate
- Transportation services, population served
- Trip volumes
- Budget
- Potential partnerships

Exploring Potential Partnerships

- Driver training, maintenance, insurance pools
- Most organizations content with current arrangements
- Some interest in driver training
- May pursue potential for cost/trip sharing agreements – partnerships with community organizations

Potential for One Stop Resource

- 211 – Eden Information and Referral
- Issues with ease of access and lack of visibility of web site
- Exploring potential to assist in upgrading web site
- Assist in promoting web site
- If agreement reached, enhanced web site should be available in Spring 2014

Thank You!

Naomi Armenta

Alameda County Transportation Commission

Paratransit Coordinator

(510) 208-7469

narmenta@alamedactc.org

Richard Weiner

Nelson\Nygaard Consulting Associates

(415) 284-1544

rweiner@nelsonnygaard.com