

Subject: [Berkeley-disabled] Make art in community at the Ed Roberts Campus - weekly on Wednesdays

Community Access Studio, a program of The Center for Accessible Technology, was founded in 1998 with the goal of providing an accessible arts venue for people of all abilities. Access Studio is an open studio where you can paint, draw, sculpt, collage, or create as you wish.

We are currently accepting new participants for our Wednesday session at the Ed Roberts Campus in Berkeley, from 2 to 3 PM.

Fees are $7 per hour, including supplies. The first visit is free. Wheelchair accessible; no scents please; food is allowed.

For more information contact Zach Pine: zachpine@gmail.com