Emeryville Mayor John J. Bauters Re-Elected Chair of the Alameda County Transportation Commission *Alameda County Supervisor David Haubert elected Vice Chair

ALAMEDA COUNTY, Calif. – City of Emeryville Mayor John J. Bauters was unanimously re-elected as Chair of the Alameda County Transportation Commission (Alameda CTC) at its first Commission meeting of 2023. Alameda County District I Supervisor David Haubert was elected Vice Chair.

"I am grateful to my peers for the privilege of serving as Chair of the Commission. Alameda CTC has a strong track record of planning, funding and delivering on its promises to voters. I look forward to continuing to advance transportation projects and programs that serve communities throughout Alameda County," noted Chair Bauters.

Some of the efforts currently being implemented include:

- Delivering transportation projects and programs included in voter-approved 2014 Measure BB Transportation Expenditure Plan.
- Continuing to advance equity, including implementation of the Alameda CTC Race and Equity Action Plan and supporting equitable engagement.
- Furthering multimodal infrastructure that prioritizes the safety of all users and advancing Vision Zero policies and strategies, particularly in historically underserved communities.
- Investing in active transportation with a focus on eliminating the High-Injury Network across the County and encouraging sustainable development with the integration of transportation and land use planning. Last year Alameda CTC adopted a 400-mile Countywide Bikeways Network that set a vision for a high-quality, safe and comfortable bikeways network to connect all of Alameda County.
- Advancing zero emission technologies. In 2022, Alameda CTC's held its first Clean Fuel Summit, where agency and non-profit leaders showcased the industry-leading work being done in Alameda County with regard to clean fuel technologies.

The Commission is comprised of 22 members, with the following representation:

- All five Alameda County Supervisors
- Two City of Oakland representatives
- One representative from each of the other 13 cities in Alameda County
- One representative from AC Transit
- One representative from BART

Newly elected Vice Chair Haubert remarked, "I am honored to serve as the Commission's Vice Chair and will work tirelessly to serve the entire county. I am excited to work with my fellow Commissioners to effectively deliver multimodal transportation projects to improve the lives of people countywide."

Alameda CTC's Chair and Vice Chair are elected to serve a two-year term. A complete list of Commissioners can be found online at <https://www.alamedactc.org/about-us/commission/>.

About the Alameda County Transportation Commission

Alameda CTC coordinates countywide transportation planning and delivers essential, voter-supported transportation improvements in every jurisdiction throughout Alameda County. Funding sources for Alameda CTC's expenditure plans include Measure B, approved by 81.5 percent of county voters in 2000, and Measure BB, approved by more than 70 percent of voters in 2014.
