Fireside Chat

MEGHAN SAHLI-WELLS
Meghan is California Director for Elected Officials to Protect America, harnessing the collective power of elected officials to solve the climate crisis and ensure environmental justice. Meghan served two terms as Mayor of Culver City, CA. Known as the “Biking Mayor,” Sahli-Wells helped craft Culver City’s first bicycle and pedestrian master plan, established the Safe Routes to School program, and helped deliver the first dedicated bus/bike lane. She has focused on creating safe, healthy streets for all.

RODNEY ELLIS
The proud son of a yardman and a maid, Harris County Precinct 1 Commissioner Rodney Ellis attended Texas public schools from grade school through law school. As a Commissioner, Ellis prioritizes inclusive economic growth that uplifts all communities, ensures access to parks and green space in under-served neighborhoods, and provides safe, affordable transportation options. Before serving as a County Commissioner, Ellis served three terms on the Houston City Council and 26 years in the Texas Senate.

MARC MCGOVERN
Marc is a life-long Cantabrigian, 30-year social worker and 18 year elected official, including 10 years on the City Council and two terms as Mayor. Marc is a leader on issues such as affordable housing, mental health, substance use disorder, income insecurity, education, social and economic justice and safe street infrastructure. Marc was the lead sponsor on the Cycle Safety Ordinance that will bring 25 miles of protected bike lanes to Cambridge.

FARRAH N. KHAN
Farrah was elected mayor of Irvine in 2020, shattering glass ceilings as the first woman of color to hold the position and the first Muslim woman to lead a large city in the United States. Mayor Khan is focused on ensuring that the City of Irvine is a leader throughout Orange County and California when it comes to innovation and technology, maintaining a safe environment and fiscal stability, combating climate change, and protecting the health and wellness of Irvine’s diverse communities.

Setting Up for Success: Policies that Support Implementation
